Promoting Mutual Understanding

ONE OF the fine things to happen in Bulloch county took place on Wednesday, April 16, when more than 100 bankers, farmers, county agents, soil conservationists, PMA officials and FHA officials and plain citizens from all sections of Georgia and Washington, D. C., covered more than 90 miles touring pastures in our county.

The pasture tour was sponsored by the Georgia Bankers Association with Wallis G. Cobb, president of the Bulloch County Bank, as "key banker" in this section for the association.

More than twenty farms were visited. The tour carried the visitors to West Side, Register, Sinkhole, Warnock, Nevils and Denmark communities.

The tour came to a climax at a luncheon at which four representative pastures in the county were discussed.

Mr. Cobb presided at the luncheon, with C. B. McAllister, executive vice president of the Sea Island Bank, making the welcoming address.

Speaking for the bankers of Georgia, George Bazomore of Waycross, president of the Georgia Bankers Association, said that they are becoming more and more interested in the problems of our farmers.

Grady Williamson of Vienna, chairman of the Bankers Association's agricultural committee, stated that they consider pastures to be one of the major problems confronting our farmers.

Under the leadership of E. D. Alexander, Athens, extension agronomist, the pasture problem was discussed.

Go to Church Sunday

THE STATESBORO Junior Chamber of Commerce is promoting "Come to Church" this month. In connection with their campaign urging citizens of this community to attend the church of your choice we add the following which we found in the editorial columns of the Lyons Progress.

"YOU make up a vital part of the citizenship of Georgia. What you do about voting and what you think about taxes means something to those who rule Georgia.

"The home from which you sprang is reflected in what you do and what you think. The faithfulness of father and mother and the character you possess is a fruit of family life and every honor that comes to you must be shared by all in your family.

"We come upon a sentiment which brings this together in a fine way in connection with the church. It says:

"I am your church.
Make me what you will.
I shall reflect you as clearly as a mirror.

If outwardly, my appearance is pleasing and inviting it is because you have made me so.

If within, my spiritual atmosphere is kindly, yet earnest; reverent, yet friendly; worshipful yet sincere; sympathetic, yet strong; divine, yet humanly expressed, it is but the manifestations of the spirit of those who constitute my membership."

"We feel that such a truth should be passed along so here it is. YOU are important and are the basis of progress."

Today Is Fat Stock Day

TODAY IS Fat Stock Show day—just about the biggest day in the year for hundreds of Bulloch County farm youth. It is the day when the 4-H boys and girls bring their cattle to town to compete for the cattle championship titles.

We know of no activity which means more to our young people and to our county than this promotion. It brings our farm youth together to show the results of many hours of care and hard work required to raise and finish off a fine meat animal.

We welcome them.

We Must Obey the Law

PUBLICATION by The Constitution of the names of motorists whose licenses are revoked seems to be having a salutary effect.

Already drivers out in the state have called in fearful lest their names appear on the list. One was lucky. His will not

J. W. Fanning, extension economist, and Henry Blitch, Bulloch county farmer, discussed systems used to build pastures.

Frank W. Fitch, extension dairyman, and Henry Edwin Banks, Bulloch county dairy farmer, talked about the dairy program and pastures.

B. L. Southwell, Tifton, animal husbandryman for the Coastal Plain Experiment Station, and Emory S. Brannen and John Ed. Brannen, Bulloch county farmers, talked about pastures.

John B. Preston, Tifton, extension agronomist, and Sam Nevils, Bulloch county farmer, talked about pastures.

And Dr. Frank King, director of the Tifton experiment station, summarized the day's tour and pointed out how close these Bulloch county farmers were following the findings at the experiment stations.

Bulloch county is turning more and more to pastures—livestock. It's helping to make this county one of the leading counties in the state, both in production and citizenship.

We commend the bankers of Georgia and the bankers of Bulloch county on their cooperation and interest in the farm problems of our citizens.

People in communities like ours are almost interdependent. The farm citizen and the town citizen look to each other for their mutual welfare.

Nothing marks a community more than such cooperation.

And Bulloch county is an outstanding example of this feeling.

appear. It will not appear because his license had been restored before the publications started.

But we are encouraged to see the interest shown in the lists. No self-respecting person wants it publicized that he has broken the laws of the state. And yet our traffic violators are often leading citizens and churchgoers.

The best way to keep a driver's permit and to keep driving legally is to stay within the law.

Incidentally, the State of New York has stretched from six months to a year the "waiting" period before a person whose driver's license has been revoked may apply for its restoration.

Well, a year should be ample time for him to sober up.—Atlanta Constitution.

Our Hat's Off Again

OUR HAT is in the air again this week. We have before us a copy of the Georgia Veterinary Medical Association magazine published in the interest of better livestock through better veterinary service.

The March-April issue carries a story on one of Bulloch county's leading veterinarians—Dr. Hugh F. Arundel.

We toss our hat up for Dr. Arundel because of the recognition given him by his fellow veterinarians in Georgia.

The story tells of Dr. Arundel's professional career, his service in World War I and World War II.

State-wide recognition of one of our citizens reflects with credit on our community, and so it is that we commend Dr. Arundel this week.

Politics

PERHAPS I do not know what I was made for; but one thing I certainly never was made for, and that is to put principals on and off at the dictation of a party, as a lackey changes his livery at his master's command.—Horace Mann.

The man who can make two ears of corn or two blades of grass grow on the spot where only one grew before, would deserve better of mankind and render more essential service to the country than the whole race of politicians put together.—Swift.

The Greatest Show on Earth

Editor's Uneasy Chair

WE'RE WORRIED about us. All our lives we've been made conscious of the classic statement: "Politics make strange bedfellows."

And now it looks like we're going to find ourselves in bed with some strange bedfellows.

And it's all because Dick Russell is a candidate for the nomination for President of these United States, and we want to see him win.

Herman Talmadge, Governor of Georgia, also wants to see Dick Russell win.

So we're going to forget our differences with Mr. Talmadge and get in bed with him and his'n and devote our energies to the common goal.

But come victory day—well,

Look at Mom, she's walking on air. She's because her son is here. See Dad's face, it's wreathed with smiles.

When he looks across the table—just inches, not miles—Lie between him and that fine boy of his.

And the boy piles his plate and says, "This stuff looks good!" He empties one plate then calls for another and loosens his belt and exclaims, "Oh, brother!"

It's good to be back with my feet under Mom's table."

And he continues to eat as long as he's hungry.

Yes, boys from McCoy and all other places.

It's wonderful to have you back, to see your faces.

And pray God before long this cold (?) war will cease.

So we can enjoy living in serenity and peace.

SOME ARE COMING HOME, others are leaving. Helen Morris and lovely two-year-old Karen who are starting on the first leg of their way to Mannheim, Germany, are leaving here by train for New York City on May 5, accompanied by Thad and Elsie Morris. Karen will proudly display her silver spoon, awarded for first place in the Baby Show at the Savannah Fair.

Robert should have seen his brunette daughter as she walked across the stage in her white pinafore over light blue pigie, with a house, and with a field-strength signal meter run the antenna to the exact height to get the very strongest signal, hitch it up to the TV set, turn it on and—bingo—there it is.

TATER RUCKER is on a high-horse. He's going to Atlanta to eat that $50 dinner and do his shouting on TV set, turn it on and—bingo—there it is.

He says he already has some prospects lined up for demonstrations and says he'll get to others in the order they call in. He says there's no obligation.

THIS TIME NEXT WEEK Charlie Olliff will begin living dangerously at an age when most of us are ready for the seven-foot box. Charlie is retiring from the grocery business in which he has been working since 1906. When we asked him what he plans to do with his spare time, he said: "Fly my plane, ride my horse, and hunt my dogs." Here's hoping for Mr. Charlie good flying, good riding, and good hunting.

MISS NONA QUINN, whose excellent work with our youth choir has won her many awards, will be assistant professor of music on G.S.C.W.'s summer faculty for the first session.

WHEN MRS. BILL HUMPHRIES and small daughter, Sally, reached Statesboro after a long hard motor trip from Corpus Christi, Texas, there was nobody home. Mrs. Flanders, Imogene (a bride-elect of this week) and Don were at church. It was such a lovely day that they did not even go by the house after services, but drove on to Mrs. Williams' place on the Tybee road for a seafood dinner. Carrie Edna and Sally weren't too disappointed, for they were very much enjoyed by the family.

ALFRED DORMAN, president of Georgia Wholesale Grocers Association, was presented a con-skin cap by a delegation of Tennessee visitors to the recent meeting in Savannah. Alfred was very much pleased. Striking the con-skin cap, he quipped, "If this thing was mine, we Democrats would know what to do with it."

As chairman of the Russell Club in Bulloch county, Mr. Dorman has found little difficulty in disposing of 79 tickets for the Russell Dinner at the Baltimore Hotel in Atlanta. Seventy-nine staunch supporters of Russell ready to pay $50 for a $5 dinner is ample proof of the high regard Bulloch people have for Georgia's favorite son.

WE NOTE WITH PRIDE that "Aine Stockdale" is on the G.S.C.W. officers' list as representative to the judiciary. We admit we don't know exactly what that means, but we're sure it's an honor.

As ever, JANE.

Trivia and Tripe . . . By G. M. B.

The hen is the only animal in Nature that can lay around and make money.

And now and then a collision occurs when two motorists go after the same pedestrian.

A nickel isn't supposed to be as good as a dollar, but it goes to church more often.

What this country needs, in fact, what the whole world needs, is to settle up and settle down.

Law gives the pedestrian the right-of-way, but makes no provisions for flowers.

The fellow who gets on a high horse is riding for a fall.

There are only two kinds of pedestrians—the quick and the dead.

What this country needs is a man who can be right and President at the same time.

An average woman's vocabulary is said to be about 500 words. Small inventory, but think of the turnover.

There Was No Mad Money For Me When I Married

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

YOU'VE HEARD of fathers giving their daughters "mad" money on their wedding days so that the poor things might come home to Mamma if the darling husband should turn out to be a brute instead of a saint.

Well, when my wedding day came around there was no "mad" money for me. Two reasons can be given for this omission. First of all, my wedding and the depression began at one and the same time. The second reason was the stronger one. My folks knew the groom was no brute, and even if I decided he was, they would have taken his side.

So it is for poor gals like me that have decided to found a house. This resolution is the result of a hectic week and a conversation with a friend. We were discussing the subject that women ought to stay away from—husbands. I happened to remark that the husband at our house and I disagreed so violently on child rearing that I was seriously considering leaving all of it to him. (I believe in strict discipline, or at least in shaking a finger at the child every now and then; but the children's father believes only in sweet talk.)

My friend chuckled and said, "Where would you go? I've wanted to go many times, but just where could one go?"

So I made up my mind right then and there that we poor, harassed mothers and wives need a refuge. First of all, it seems very likely that I should be successful in persuading several wealthy old maids to endow such a home. Having received the money so easily (?) I would locate the home in some quiet spot among deep woods, where birds would sing, and there would be quiet from the snarling of husbands and raucous children.

There would be comfortable rooms that needed no reservations. Every bus station, train station, and air service would be instructed to give free passes to any mother or wife at a moment's notice. The only identification she would need would be a list of her grievances.

Here might be a sample of a friend's grievances: new puppy brought home; good rug in living room; porch completely taken over by puppy; articles destroyed by puppy; and a husband who sides with son and puppy.

A list of my own (beginning just before Easter) would read: Walked into house to hear cheeping of six baby chicks in box in hall; weather too cold for them outside; a few days later discover my nice pin-up lamp is being used to keep them warm; box in which biddies are kept brought in and out of house several times a day, spilling bottom of contents; hot here and there on the floor; and a husband who backed up the whole project.

At this harrowing Mamma's Haven, I would unpack my hurriedly packed bag and be alone for a while. In less than an hour in the solitude of my room little things would overshadow my ease. For instance, the day I walked out into the chilly wind to discover the five-year-old covering the colic dog with an old blanket. When I asked what she was doing, she pulled back the blanket to expose the six Easter biddies running in and out from under the dog, making feathers of its fur!

Other memories would return, too. There would be the day I finally had to go to bed with the flu. It seemed necessary to keep the youngest in the room in order that I might know where she was. All day long she nursed me, and her dolls. The trouble was that the dolls shared my bed. Soreness of muscle, fever, and great weakness caused me to exclaim petulantly, "I hope I get well or die one."

And the little lady replied most severely, "Well, Mommy, make up your mind which you want and ask God, and He'll do the one you want."

FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT
To the Voters of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit:
I am a candidate to succeed myself as Judge of the Superior Court of the Ogeechee Judicial Circuit, in the State Democratic Primary to be held on May 14, 1952.

By appointment of the Governor, I filled the unexpired term of the late T. J. Evans, deceased, and am now completing my first full term by a vote of the people in 1948, and for which I am grateful.

The only promise I am making is to treat all classes and conditions of people as nearly fair and right as is humanly possible. And the people of this circuit have had an opportunity to judge me to this.

On account of the closeness of the time before the primary, it will be impossible to see but a small fraction of the voters.

The office of Judge of the Superior Court carries with it heavy responsibilities, and the qualified voters should express themselves on election day.

Your vote on May 14th will be very much appreciated.
Respectfully yours,
J. L. RENFROE

FOR REPRESENTATIVE TO GENERAL ASSEMBLY
To the Voters of Bulloch County:
I hereby announce my candidacy to succeed myself as Representative for Bulloch County in the General Assembly of Georgia, subject to the rules of the State Democratic Primary to be held May 14, 1952.

Your vote and support will be appreciated.
Sincerely yours,

I am completing my first term as Solicitor General. I have enjoyed the work of that office, and I appreciate the fine cooperation which I have received from the Court, the officials of the Court, the attorneys, and the citizens of the several counties in performing the duties of that office.

I deeply appreciate the fact that I am permitted now to enter the primary without opposition.

I assure you that when re-elected I shall continue to devote my time and best efforts to the work of that office and serve you at all times to the best of my ability.

helping
Give the little lady a hand

THIS ad is addressed to husbands — husbands who've yearned for the thrill of sitting behind a broad hood packed with horsepower — and the pride of rolling down the street in a car that tells the world, "Here's a man who knows the finest thing on wheels."

But husbands have wives. And wives have been known to say, "No big cars for me. They're too hard to handle."

Well, we have an answer for that one. It's a ROADMASTER with Buick's new Power Steering.† And Power Steering takes over any and the steering gets tough — works like a helping hand — reduces the effort of turning the wheel of a car at a standstill to about the same effort it takes to pick up a mink coat.

BUT out on the open highway — with a clear straight stretch before you — your hands still have command of the wheel — you can feel that sure, firm, easy and eager responsiveness that's a part of the fun of driving.

The rest of the fun is in something else that's new this year — the highest horsepower that a Buick Fireball Engine has ever delivered — and an Airpower carburetor that lets loose an extra reserve of power when needed, and still adds extra miles to your cruising range on each tankful of gas.

So we suggest a family demonstration. You'll both like the hushed and restful silence of this superbly able traveler. You'll like the harmonious beauty of its interior, and the deep and luxurious softness of its seats. You'll like the velvet-gloved grip of its Wide-Band brakes, and the most capacious trunk in Buick history. You'll like the smooth surge of Dynaflo Drive, and you'll like — but why waste time talking, when you could be finding out more than we can ever tell you? How about making a date to do that right now?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. While available optional at extra cost when available. †Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster only.

Hereford Cattle Sale Here May 9

Another opportunity for farmers, cattlemen and breeders of beef type cattle will be the auction sale of 60 head of purebred and registered Hereford and Polled Hereford cattle to be held Friday, May 9, at the sale barn of the Statesboro Livestock Commission. The sale is being conducted by F. C. Parker and Son, according to an announcement by Billy Aycock of Monticello, who, with his father and brother, Frank, have been actively promoting better livestock in the southeast for 15 years.

This sale like several sales last year, this point is designed to serve breeders and cattlemen in East Georgia and Western South Carolina where the industry is expanding. Aycock says beef cattle are becoming one of the most profitable sources of farm income and it has been amply demonstrated that good cattle can be grown here as in any section of the nation, and much cheaper. He said it fits in with most farm programs as feed crops may be grown with tractors and the animals do the harvesting.

Bankers and businessmen of Statesboro, Extension Service, Farm Bureau and others sponsor these sales which are conducted here from time to time, as good breeding stock is available, according to Byron Dyer, county agent of Bulloch county.
